SYNOPSIS

LIFE AS WE KNEW IT captures the life of Miranda Evans, a 14 year old girl, and her family: Laura, her mother; Matt, her older brother; and Jonny, her younger brother, as they battle natural disasters and starvation after an asteroid hits the moon, pushing it closer to Earth and throwing the climate into chaos.

LIFE AS WE KNEW IT is based on the dystopian teen science fiction novel written by Susan Beth Pfeffer.

“I wonder if I cry whether my tears would be gray.”

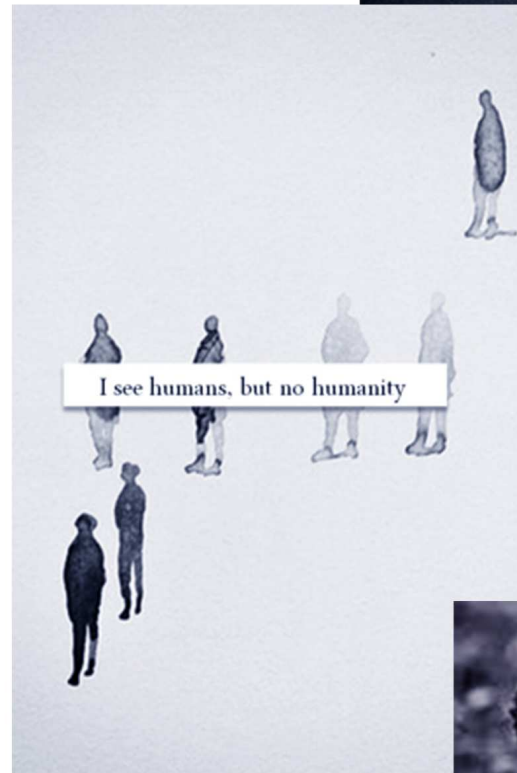

“I guess I always felt that even if the world was coming to an end, McDonald’s would still be open.”

- Miranda Evans

"I wonder if I'll ever have to decide which is worse, life as we're living or no life at all."

“I hate the moon. I hate the tides and earthquakes and volcanoes. I hate a world where things that have absolutely nothing to do with me can destroy my life and the lives of people I love.”

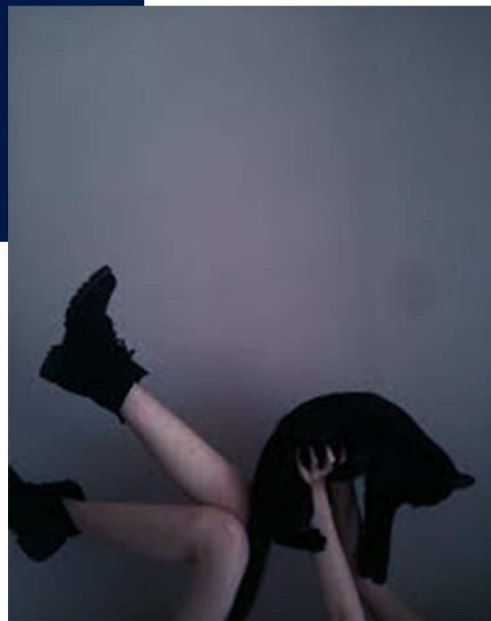

- Miranda Evans

WINTER

"I'm keeping this journal for myself so I can always remember life as we knew it, life as we know it, and for a time when I am no longer in the sunroom."

“I never really thought about how when I look at the moon, it’s the same moon Shakespeare and Marie Antoinette and George Washington and Cleopatra looked at. Not to mention all those zillions of people I’ve never heard of. All those Homo sapiens and Neanderthals looked at the very same moon as me. It waxed and waned in their sky, too.”

- Miranda Evans
